

RAVE REVIEWS

“ Irvine had us at hello! He hooked every senior executive with his personal tale of growing up in the pub of Northern Island; his dad scooping him up from his childhood bed just moments before their home and livelihood blew up before their eyes! Irvine is a brilliant storyteller, captivating us with his compelling story and taking us to the scene as if it was happening to us. As we hung on his every word, he drove home the leadership lessons critical to managing the immediate threats our teams face. Irvine is a brilliant speaker who skillfully embeds humor into his lessons on how to handle the needs of diverse human beings every single day.

PAM COFFEY, FORMER CHIEF LEARNING OFFICER, FHFA

“ Dr. Nugent's content, delivery and ability to connect and engage with the audience in an hour was impressive. Feedback from attendees included, "The first speaker set the tone. It was an amazing talk, one which gave me hope both for the workplace and at home." and "The keynote speaker spoke directly to my heart, mind, and soul! He gave me a new perspective on managing my stress, and not letting my stress manage me!" I highly recommend working with this engaging and dynamic professional.

PATRICIA MEYER, ASSOCIATE VICE PRESIDENT, FREDERICK COMMUNITY COLLEGE

“ Irvine is a natural speaker, leader and trainer. His ability to connect with his audience and those around him both personally and professionally is highly impressive.

- VANESSA VAN EDWARDS, SCIENCE OF PEOPLE

“ The depth and breadth of Irvine's expertise and engagement covered the broad scope of our office needs and resulted in improved communication and processes across the office and those we engage within and outside

ABOUT IRVINE NUGENT, PH.D.

Irvine Nugent believes that leadership development is a journey from the inside out. If our emotional intelligence is lacking then any new business skill we attempt to implement will be adversely impacted. As such, he's spent most of his career helping leaders harness the power of their emotions so they can have deeper connections, make better decisions, and increase their influence.

He possesses fifteen-plus years in senior leadership roles in organizations of various sizes, stages of growth and different sectors. He is experienced in challenging business environments and has worked extensively with executive and emerging leaders as an executive coach and consultant helping them become more self-aware, manage their emotions, read the emotions of others and manage their relationships.

Born in Northern Ireland, Irvine brings to his audiences a rich and varied experience. Growing up in a society torn apart by division and violence he has seen first-hand the damage done when communication breaks down and people fail to listen and understand. This has inspired him to help leaders build workplaces in which people thrive and realize their full potential.

A gifted storyteller, his programs are infused with passion, dynamism and of course his natural Irish humor. Paramount for Irvine is the importance that each person leaves with practical tools based on the latest scientific research that they can implement immediately.

Irvine is an internationally recognized trainer and top-rated keynote speaker and is one of the few worldwide certified FACS coders, who are experts in reading facial emotions. He earned his Ph.D. from Capella University with research focused on leadership in times of crisis. He is a graduate of Georgetown University's executive coaching program. He is the author of the upcoming book, Leadership Lessons From The Pub.
